

| On this walk we will look at the city by patterns of Images: Paths, Edges, Districts, Nodes, Landmarks & interesting urban fabric. How our city users take in information about the city, and use it to make mental maps. By observing through a set of interconnected patterns. Aliveness is one placeholder term for "the quality that has no name": a sense of wholeness, spirit, or grace, that while of varying form, is precise and empirically verifiable. Come join us on a walking adventure of "place" & "form". |
